President's Piece

How's your head?

No doubt many of you will still be recovering from the week that was the "Caloundra Falken Tyres Rally Queensland" – and oh what a week it was.

Right from the outset, the event felt good. From the near-perfect entertaining promotional start at King's Beach on Friday night with wine, cheese tasting, music and frivolity, to the hard fought competition over Saturday and Sunday, to the presentation dinner and subsequent end-of-event party and the Official's recovery BBQ, the whole experience was like watching a finely-tuned watch go through it's action. Even the famous Queensland weather came out to play.

From all comments received, the 2003 event has been described as probably the best ARC event the BSCC has conducted, and arguably the best in the current Australian Rally Championship.

To Errol and everyone involved in the mammoth task of organising and running this all-consuming modern-day

Australian Rally Championship rally, a huge round of applause for your collective expertise, time and effort. Great teamwork!

Not ones to rest on our laurels, round two of KCF Short Course Rally Series kicks into gear on the last weekend of July at Jimna – if you haven't got anything to do, we'd love to see you there. Contact Mark or Sheridan if you are able to help out.

Wednesday July 16th sees an interesting forum on "Rally Registered Vehicles" being conducted at the Clubhouse, involving experts from the Police Department on hand to pass on their knowledge in this area. (Mmmm – this could be a good night for many).

I would also like to remind everyone that the BSCC 50th Year Celebration dinner is scheduled for August 2 (crikey - only about 4 weeks away). Tickets are now selling, with limited numbers available, so make sure you get in early to avoid disappointment.

RALLY QUEENSLAND HUGE SUCCESS FOR SUNSHINE COAST

CALOUNDRA'S Falken Tyres Rally Queensland has proven to be a major success for the Sunshine Coast, with thousands of people enjoying the three-day festival of speed.

Thousands flocked to the hinterland forest spectator park, where they witnessed Cody Crocker take out victory in the perfect weather conditions.

"I want to move up here, it's a fantastic location for it," said Crocker during the post race celebrations at Kings Beach, which drew around 1000 spectators.

The event kicked off on Friday night at Kings Beach, with a moving tribute to late great Possum Bourne. Organisers estimated 6000 people attended the official start, which coincided with the food, wine and jazz festival.

Another highlight of the event was the Hella Hillclimb, held at Tewantin on Saturday night, with a large crowd filling the hillside along Gyndier Drive.

Dean Herridge, who finished third overall for the weekend, says he always looks forward to the Queensland round of the Australian championship.

"It's always a fantastic event, they always great support form the locals, the Friday night start is always nice, and they get a lot of people there," said Herridge.

"They also get a lot of people here in Imbil, and I think they have done a great job with the rally, it's very very tough, but it's the same for everybody, and it's nice to come through on the tough ones."

The event was the 32nd Australian Rally Championship round organised by the Brisbane Sporting Car Club, which undertook a massive logistical task to co-ordinate the event and its 400 volunteer officials.

According to event director Errol Bailey, the event based at the Rydges Oasis Resort in Caloundra was the biggest and best round ever held on the Sunshine Coast.

"Caloundra and the communities along the sunshine coast should take a bow for making the event such a success.

"Ever year the rally injects $2 million directly into the community, and in turn the community gets right behind the event and makes the competing teams very welcome."

FLASH BACK

By Tony Best

The magazine 'Australian Motor Sports and Automobiles' no longer exists, but was reasonably well known in the 1960s. As 1968 was its 23rd year of publication it must have first appeared on the scene in 1946 when Australia was just starting to move into peacetime activities. This photo appeared in the February 1968 issue and was the first mention of a new mystery car (exciting and sophisticated) about to be released onto the Australian market. The description of the car is fairly accurate and 'Australian Motor Sports and Automobiles' predicted a fairly good future for it. However I do not think that anybody in 1968 would have realised that 35 years later this car would still be winning events and on occasions beating the latest four-wheel drive turbo rally cars.

Fulcrum Suspension Coastal Challenge

Andrew Owen
Clerk of Course

The Fulcrum Suspensions Coastal Challenge was run in conjunction with this years Rally Queensland, with the Datsun 1600 mounted team of Duncan Clement and Jeremy Peick were triumphant for the second year in a row. Their only points loss on the navigation sections resulted from the mis-spelling of No Thru Road. A consistent and clean test score also contributed to their victory.

Ralph Condon and Gary Worrall in the black Peugeot were second despite almost exceeding their late time at the Wittia control. From there, a clean run on the navigation and steady test times allowed them to stay ahead of the remainder of the field. Allan and Cate Kelly in the two door Sti were third, a scant 8 points behind the Peugeot. The special test scores did not include the parade laps on the ARC bitumen stages. Adding the time and penalties for the Corbould, Skid Pan and Driver training tests indicated that Tony Young and Paul Taylor in the WRX wagon were this year's fastest team with 131 points. John Colvin/Paul Taylor (Honda S2000), and Joanne and Nathan Stanton in the Westfield tied for second, 4 points behind.

Thanks to all competitors for their participation on the day. With the high police presence in the area, it was satisfying not to receive any adverse reports. Thanks to Fulcrum Suspensions for their support. The Fulcrum course car crew enjoyed following the challenge, and have indicated an interest in competing in the next event. Should you need suspension parts, advice or work, call Fulcrum and they will be able to help.

In conclusion, an event like this cannot run on its own. Many thanks to the road crews, control teams, test officials, stewards and ARC workers who contributed to what was hopefully an enjoyable day for all.

Event results are published in this edition of Brisport.
